Polin with New Strategic Alliances

In EAP issue 5/2010 we already represented the first of the new water park cinemas developed by 4D cinema technology specialist Kraftwerk in cooperation with Polin that is going to be installed in Austria. As the Turkish company announced recently, Polin became the exclusive worldwide distributor of the patent pending product – especially designed for water parks – called “Splashcinema”.

Another strategic alliance was formed last summer between Polin and the innovator of artificial wave and surf technology American Wave Machines (AWM). Polin sells the products in the areas outside of the U.S. and moreover produces the fiberglass parts of the product. (eap)
